Revolutionary War Project Rubric

STUDENT:_____ GRADE: _____

TITLE: _____   Type of Project: _____

CATEGORY	5	4	3	2	1	Points Earned
Content (worth x2)	All evidence is 100% accurate Claims/evidence is well elaborated on for support Content presented is completely on topic	Evidence is at least 90% accurate Claims/evidence is mostly well supported with elaboration Content is mostly on topic	Evidence is at least 80% accurate Claims/evidence is supported with details/elaboration Content is generally on topic	Evidence is at least 70% accurate Claims/evidence is barely supported with details/elaboration Content is only somewhat on topic	Evidence is less than 50% accurate Very little evidence is presented on the topic Content is only tangentially related to the topic
Graphics/Pictures/ Additional Content	Content is well organized in way that clearly presents the topic Content is fully relevant to the presentation Content accurately portrays the topic	Content is organized in a way in a way that presents the topic well Content is relevant to the presentation, though may be not completely connected Content almost completely portrays the topic	Content is organized in a way that mostly presents the topic well Content is somewhat relevant to the topic Content somewhat accurately portrays the topic	Content is only somewhat organized in way which does not clearly present the topic Content is only a little relevant to the topic Content is only a little accurate	Content is poorly organized and does not present the topic well Content is irrelevant to the topic Content is barley accurate to the topic

Presentation	Projection is used so that that whole presentation is audible Presenters act formally, using eye contact, facing the audience and staying on topic Presenters are able to speak on their topic with only rarely referring to notes	Projection is used, though a little of the presentation is inaudible Presenters act mostly formally, using eye contact, facing the audience and staying on topic Presenters are able to speak on their topic, though return to notes	Presenters speak with some projection, though are sometimes inaudible Presenters act somewhat formally, though may not always face the audience Presenters can speak from some memory, but rely on notes	Presenters speak with only a little projection and are often inaudible Presenters act only slightly formally, sometimes turn around and avoid eye contact Presenters can speak only a little from memory, and rely heavily on notes	Presenters are mostly inaudible or unintelligible Presenters do not act formally, turn around often Presenters only can present from notes
Sources and Citation	All evidence is cited from credible sources All sources are cited correctly Sources include at least 2 primary and 2 secondary sources	Most evidence is cited from credible sources All sources are cited, though there may be some errors Sources include at least 3 sources with a mix of primary/secondary sources	Some evidence is cited from credible sources, though less credible sources may be present Only some sources are cited or citation is done incorrectly Only 2 sources are cited or only primary/secondary sources are used	Evidence is cited, but not from credible sources Sources are named, but not cited correctly Only 1 source is used	Evidence is not cited

If the project is turned in on any date after due, 10% of the total grade will be deducted.

Total Score: _____/25

Comments: